Welcome to Century Inn

With a humble frontier beginning in 1794, through two centuries of generous hospitality, the noble Century Inn has welcomed both stagecoach and modern-day visitors with fine dining and comfortable lodging.

Dr. Gordon Franklin and Mary Amanda Harrington purchased this inn in 1945, which was empty with the exception of two benches. It was Mary Amanda's vision to fill the inn with furnishings from the 18th and 19th centuries. After a devastating fire destroyed most of the collection in 2015, our present Innkeeper, Megin Harrington, has faithfully continued to build on this tradition for the enjoyment and comfort of our patrons today

As the oldest continuously operating inn on the National Road, Century Inn has hosted many famous visitors including Andrew Jackson, the Marquis de LaFayette, Henry Clay, James K. Polk and Mexican General Santa Anna.

Located less than an hour south of downtown Pittsburgh, our beautiful stone inn can accommodate up to 14 overnight guests with additional accommodations at Zephaniah Riggle's House of Entertainment. Our 4 historic dining rooms can seat up to 80 persons, with additional facilities at our outdoor gazebo, available during warmer months.

Join us for your next special occasion; whether entertaining guests from out of town, treating yourself to a weekend get-away or planning the wedding of your dreams, we would be delighted to be your hosts. We look forward to your next visit!

Have a wonderful, healthy and safe holiday. Thank you for celebrating Thanksgiving with us!
